Piccadilly Line Upgrade

The Piccadilly Line, serving both Woodberry Down and Trent Park is undergoing a £2.9bn investment programme to help the line run more reliably, safely, inclusively and sustainably. This upgrade will see the introduction of a new fleet of trains by the end of 2025 replacing the line's existing trains which have been serving London since 1975. These upgrades will enable TFL to increase the number of trains through central London from 24 to 27 trains an hour - every 135 seconds - at the busiest times, making the service faster, more reliable and more frequent.

£2.9BN Invested

The Piccadilly line accounts for more than 10% of all journeys on the London Underground, with around 158 million trips annually (NUMBAT data 2022) connecting destinations across north and west London, Heathrow Airport, the West End and King's Cross/St Pancras International.

Changes we will see

Walk-through carriages

On-train CCTV cameras for additional customer security

Air conditioning, for the first time on a deep Tube train

Wider all-double doorways to help customers get on and off more easily

Improved step-free access from/onto the platform

Modifications to signalling to ensure reliability & safety

Upgraded tracks and trackside equipment for a smoother and faster journey

Enhanced digital display screens for customer information

Over 25,000 jobs across the capital

Sustainability

The new trains are also being designed with sustainability in mind, reducing energy consumption by 20% and supporting decarbonisation.

POWER UPGRADE
The power system on the Piccadilly line will be upgraded ensuring that the new trains run as reliably and efficiently as possible during the busiest times.

Trent Park and Woodberry Down are both located on the Piccadilly line and will benefit from this £2.9bn investment.
