ELEVATED LIFESTYLE

The first penthouses have been launched at Berkeley's TwelveTrees Park in the heart of the east London borough of Newham. These suites represent a luxuriously elevated London lifestyle and have been named The Verdant Collection to reflect the surrounding green areas, such as the development's new 4.5-acre Wi-Fi enabled park. Starting from £1.1m, the penthouses deliver dramatic views across The City, Canary Wharf and Stratford. With interiors designed by the Berkeley team, they offer three double bedrooms, two with en suite bathrooms, as well as a large living and dining area, a modern kitchen and a private terrace. Viewings by appointment only.

Rockwell Appointment

Mixed-use UK-based property developer Rockwell has announced the appointment of Oliver Barrett as land director. Barrett joins having helped build the Amazon real estate team, and brings significant large-scale acquisitions experience and expertise to the company. He had previously held the role of head of property at Lidl GB. His appointment comes at an exciting time for Rockwell, with Vetro, a landmark £151 mixed-use scheme, set for completion this year, and several upcoming project milestones and strategic acquisitions in the pipeline in the coming months. The London-based property developer is now seeking to continue expanding its operation across the capital in the near future.

Echoes of the Georgian Era

Art Invest Real Estate, ECE Architecture and Dukelease Properties have unveiled 101 on Cleveland, a boutique residential development in the heart of London's Fitzrovia. The £190m scheme includes 88 private residences, 35,000 sq. ft. of commercial space and 15 affordable homes.

Designed by award-winning architects and interior designers Assael, 101 on Cleveland is inspired by Fitzrovia's rich history, with the building's façade echoing Cleveland Street's Georgian origin. Comprising three buildings with a range of spacious one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments with private amenities, 101 on Cleveland has been designed to capture the essence of Fitzrovia with an emphasis on traditional craftsmanship.

From £1.3m / €1.55m / $1.75m
